

Brief Embassy Report on Bilateral Relations – ITJ Division, DGCI&S, Kolkata.

India- Israel Bilateral Relations

A. Introduction

1. Indian Trade Journal (ITJ) division of the Directorate General of Commercial Intelligence and Statistics (DGCIIS) brings out weekly publication on Embassy Profile Report providing information on recent policy changes and happenings in other countries that may be of interest to the Indian trading community. This is the Embassy Profile Report for 17.12.2025 depicting the Embassy of Israel.
2. India and Israel are strategic partners. The bilateral political ties are warm and forward-looking. India announced its recognition of Israel on September 17, 1950. Soon after, the Jewish Agency established an immigration office in Bombay (Mumbai), which was later converted into a Trade Office and, subsequently, a Consulate. Regular embassies opened in 1992 when full diplomatic relations were established between the two countries. In 2022-23, the two countries jointly celebrated 30 years of the elevation of bilateral ties to full diplomatic relations.
3. The civilizational relations between the two countries date back to more than two millennia. India has welcomed Jews for several centuries, and their contribution, in turn, has enriched Indian culture. India is known in Israel as an ancient nation with strong cultural traditions and as an attractive tourist destination.

B. High-level visits and interactions.

4. Recent high-level interactions between India and Israel include Piyush Goyal's visit to Israel in November 2025, where he met with Israeli leadership to boost economic ties, and discussions between EAM Jaishankar and Israeli ministers in early November 2025 on regional security and the Gaza peace plan. Key outcomes from Goyal's visit include signing Terms of Reference for a Free Trade Agreement and focusing on collaboration in cyber security, innovation, and agriculture.
5. On January 11, 2023, Prime Minister Narendra Modi spoke to Israeli Prime Minister (PM) Benjamin Netanyahu to congratulate him on his election as Israel's PM for the sixth time. Prime Minister Modi and PM Netanyahu also spoke on February 8, 2023, to discuss bilateral issues. On August 24, 2023, PM Netanyahu called the Prime Minister to congratulate him on the successful landing of the Chandrayaan 3 on the moon. On October 10, 2023, PM Netanyahu called the Prime Minister to provide an update on the situation in Israel after the October 7 attacks. Prime Minister Netanyahu and Prime Minister Modi also spoke on December 19, 2023, about the situation in the region and safety of maritime traffic. On June 6, 2024, Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu called Prime Minister Narendra Modi to congratulate him on his election as India's PM for the third consecutive term.

D. Other Major Areas of Cooperation

Agriculture

14. Under a comprehensive work plan for cooperation in agriculture signed on May 10, 2006, bilateral projects are implemented through MASHAV (Center for International Cooperation of Israel's Ministry of Foreign Affairs) and CINADCO (Centre for International Agricultural Development Cooperation of Israel's Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development). Agricultural cooperation between the two sides is formalized through 3-Year Work Plans where in 3-Year Action Plans are developed. The 5th3-Year Work Plans (2021- 2023) was signed on May 24, 2021. 31 Agriculture Centers of Excellence have been established in 13 Indian states.

Water

15. Ongoing cooperation between the two countries in this sector was formalized through an MOU on Water Resources Management and Development Cooperation signed in November 2016. During the visit of the Prime Minister to Israel in July 2017, both sides signed MoUs on (i) the National Campaign for Water Conservation in India and (ii) the Reforms of UP Jal Nigam. During the visit of the then Chief Minister of Punjab to Israel in October 2018, the State Government of Punjab and Mekorot (Israel National Water Company) signed an MoU, wherein Mekorot will formulate a Water Conservation and Management Plan for Punjab. In November 2019, India-Israel water cooperation got a boost with the first-ever visit by Minister of Jal Shakti to Israel. During the visit, Minister of Jal Shakti participated in the India-Israel Strategic Partnership on Water along with his Israeli counterpart Dr. Yuval Steinitz, the then-Minister of Energy, and was also a keynote speaker at the WATEC 2019.

16. In May 2023, both countries signed a Letter of Intent to establish Centres of Excellence in Indian Institute of Technology Madras and Indian Institute of Technology Roorkee respectively. The key objective is the implementation of Israel's water technologies, tailor- made to Indian requirements, on sustainable management solutions for the Indian water sector.

Innovation and science & technology(S&T)

17. The Joint Committee on S&T, established under the S&T Cooperation Agreement signed in 1993, oversees India-Israel cooperation in S&T. The JCM promotes joint research programs in select areas of mutual importance through a bilateral mechanism by extending financial support for undertaking joint research activities by Indian and Israeli researchers through various modes, viz., i) joint R&D projects; ii) exchange visits of scientists and researchers; and iii) bilateral symposiums and workshops. The tenth JCM on Science and Technology was held on July 25, 2022, under which the India-Israel Joint Research Program (IIJRC) 2023 was launched, seeking proposals in the field of artificial intelligence (AI) application in climate change and agriculture for food security.

18. During the visit of the Prime Minister of India to Israel in July 2017, an MoU was signed between the Department of Science and Technology, India, and the National Authority for Technological Innovation, Israel, for establishing the India-Israel Industrial R&D and Innovation Fund (I4F). This MoU, with a contribution of USD 20 million from each side over five years (2018-2022), enables Indian and Israeli enterprises to undertake joint industrial R&D projects in priority technology sectors such as agriculture, water, energy, healthcare and ICT. Both sides have renewed the I4F program for a further period of 5 years (2023-27) by making the fund available for joint projects across various fields under four separate tracks (feasibility studies; R&D projects; pilot projects; and strategic projects). Ten rounds of calls for proposals have been held between 2018 and 2023. The eleventh call for proposals under I4F is open for submissions until July 2024. So far, I4F has funded thirty R&D projects, including joint projects on low-cost, high-efficiency solar water pumping solutions, drone detection and neutralisation systems, and an AI-based project for the early detection of tuberculosis.

19. In September 2020, Israel's Startup Nation Central and India's International Centre for Entrepreneurship and Technology (iCREATE) signed a bilateral program to accelerate innovation and tech cooperation. In May 2023, India and Israel signed an MoU on Industrial Research and Development Cooperation with a focus on key areas under the ambit of Israel's Directorate of Defense Research and Development and India's Council of Scientific and Industrial Research.

Defence

20. As part of regular goodwill visits by Indian Navy ships, three Indian naval ships from the Western Fleet made a port call in Haifa in May 2017. INS Tarangini, a naval training ship, made a port call in Haifa in September 2018. Apart from the naval exercises, Indian Air Force participated in a multilateral Air Force exercise, Blue Flag-2021, held in October 2021 in Israel.

People-to-people relations

(a) There are around 26,000 Indian citizens in Israel, primarily caregivers, employed by Israeli elders to take care of them; diamond traders, workers employed in construction and agriculture sectors, IT professionals, and students. During his visit to Israel in July 2017, the Prime Minister addressed a gathering of around 8,000 PIOs and Indian nationals working in Israel at the Tel Aviv exhibition grounds. EAM interacted with the Indian-origin community in Israel during his visit to Israel in October 2021.

(b) Students: There are approximately 900 Indian students studying in Israel, mainly at the doctoral and post-doctoral levels. Several courses related to India are taught at Israeli universities.

(c) Indian Community: There are approximately 85,000 Jews of Indian origin in Israel who are Israeli passport holders. The main waves of immigration into Israel from India took place in the 1950s and 1960s. The majority are from Maharashtra (Bene Israelis), and relatively smaller numbers are from Kerala (Cochini Jews) and Kolkata (Baghdadi Jews). In recent years, some Indian Jews from the North Eastern states of India (Bnei Menashe) have also been immigrating to Israel.

(d) Pravasi Bhartiya Samman: Eliyahu Bezalel, hailing from Chennamangalam, Kochi, who distinguished himself as an eminent agriculturalist in Israel, became the first Israeli of Indian origin to receive Pravasi Bhartiya Samman in 2005. Late Sheikh Muhammad Munir Nazir Hassan Ansari, the director and trustee of the Indian Hospice in Jerusalem, which represents a unique Indian connection to the Holy City, was honored with the award in 2011. In 2017, the late Dr Lael A. Best, an Israeli cardio-thoracic surgeon of Indian origin, was conferred this award. In 2023, Reena Vinod Pushkarna, a prominent restaurateur in Israel, was awarded in recognition of her achievements in the fields of business and community welfare.

Culture

22. India and Israel renewed their Cultural Exchange Program (for 2020-23) in August 2020, to facilitate bilateral cultural exchanges spanning all fields of art and culture, including youth exchanges. Yoga and Ayurveda are popular in Israel, and the International Day of Yoga is always well-attended and celebrated with great enthusiasm. The Indian Cultural Centre in Tel Aviv started functioning in January 2020 and regularly organizes events to promote cultural ties.
